I have come to the frightening conclusion that I am the decisive element. It is my personal approach that creates the climate. It is my daily mood that makes the weather. I possess tremendous power to make life miserable or joyous. I can be a tool of torture or an instrument of inspiration. I can humiliate or humor, hurt or heal. In all situations, it is my response that decides whether a crisis is escalated or de-escalated, and a person humanized or de-humanized. If we treat people as they are, we make them worse. If we treat people as they ought to be, we help them become what they are capable of becoming.

~ Johann Wolfgang von Goethe*

*Goethe was German and lived from 1749 to 1832. He was originally a lawyer but loved studying poetry and natural sciences more and he became an artist, biologist, theoretical physicist and philosopher (aka Renaissance man). He wrote the play Faust and he started the Romantic Era in Europe, which valued intuition and emotion over Enlightenment rationalism. He influenced many including Ralph Waldo Emerson and Charles Darwin.
