Our history is an integral part of ourselves.

As long as think of the past as the source of our problems, we set up, in a sense, an adversarial relationship within ourselves.

The past, very humanly, responds negatively to criticism and blame but favorably to respect and stroking.

The past prefers to be seen as a resource, a store of memories, good and bad, and a source of wisdom emanating from life experience.
